RE: Exempt Veterinarians from the Prescription Drug Monitoring Program - Vote YES on HB 91

Dear Representative Wool:

Introduction paragraph – We are veterinarians at Kodiak Veterinary Clinic, the only vet clinic on Kodiak, Ak. We support the exemption for veterinarians from Alaska’s Prescription Drug Monitoring Program (PDMP) for multiple reasons. First and foremost, the PDMP acts as a one size fits all program that animals do not fit into. The PDMP database is not useful as animals are lacking a permanent identifier. Logging client information within a useless database creates potential privacy violations, and veterinarians already adhere to controlled substance regulations. Upkeep of a useless database is a needless drain on the state budget.

- Animals are lacking a permanent identifier: There is no permanent identifier for an animal. Animals can have different names and owners throughout their lifetime. The animal can also have different owner names from within the same household.
- Potential privacy violations: Searching the PDMP database by the owner could provide medical information the owner is uncomfortable with their veterinarian knowing. Secondly, veterinarians are not trained in human medication doses much like physicians are not trained in the dose ranges for dogs, cats, birds, elephants, etc.
- Veterinarians already adhere to controlled substance regulations: Veterinarians who prescribe or dispense controlled substances are licensed through Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA). There is already a significant level of accountability, record keeping, and medication storage requirements that these veterinarians adhere to.
- Cost: PDMP review and reporting constitutes a disproportionate impact on veterinarians as small business owners. Veterinary clinics lack the standardized software used in human health care facilities, so reporting is more labor-intensive and costly. Additionally, the cost to investigate veterinarians who fail to use the database correctly is a waste of very limited resources.

As medical providers it is important to us that the PDMP is used correctly to track trends of human opioid shopping. 32 states have found exemption for their veterinarians from participating in the PDMP. The exemption of veterinarians from the PDMP will increase the efficacy for the system's intended purpose, by allowing for accurate interpretation of data and trends in human medicine. Veterinarian exemption will allow human practitioners to continue to provide appropriate care and medical management for their patients.
